Jade Hwang | Product Designer

I'm a passionate product designer drawn to AI and consumer apps, where how something feels matters as much as what it does. My psychology background shapes how I design: I start with what people want, what makes them hesitate, and what brings them back. For 5 years, I've shipped mobile apps from 0 to 1 across AI, relationships and well-being.

Experience

NAVER Corporation | Product Designer

JUI 2026 – AUG 2026

Led end-to-end design of an AI calling agent, from user research and journey mapping to wireframes and an interactive prototype

Presented the concept through multiple review rounds with mentors and executives, using prototypes to align stakeholders and earn approval

Azure Mir, LLC | Co-Founder

APR 2019 – SEP 2025

Led the design direction for 6 consumer mobile apps, from wireframes to high-fidelity interactions, using Figma and Adobe CC

Designed Maroo AI's three-tap photoshoot flow and a ~1,000-template library, leading to a $500K acquisition at launch

Launched and grew LuvDiary for 3 years, iterating on user feedback to reach 20K+ DAU and 52% D30 retention

Collaborated with engineers to scope features, define edge cases and keep design intent intact through development

Botlab | Product Designer

OCT 2025 – APR 2026

Designed a B2B commerce web platform for a ~$7M marketing company, from information architecture to high-fidelity UI

Shaped a prayer app for a San Francisco church, supporting members across its global branches

Worked closely with clients, PMs and engineers to translate business needs into design specs and hand-off-ready components
